This tune comes from the legendary Round Peak fiddlers Tommy Jarrell (1901-1985) and Benton Flippen (1920-2011), and was customarily played for dance parties that families would host in their homes in the weeks between Christmas and New Years. There are some lyrics that go along with the tune:

Hoo-ray Jake and Hoo-ray John,
Breakin' Up Christmas all night long.

Way back yonder a long time ago
The old folks danced the do-si-do.

Way down yonder alongside the creek
I seen Santy Claus washin' his feet.

Santa Claus come, done and gone,
Breakin' Up Christmas right along.
