This is an Scottish dance tune that was very popular years ago at contra dances in New England. The Petronella was a specific dance, which featured lots of foot stomping in the opening measures of the A part. Note the alternate A part, in the open position, which starts at measure 21.