I learned this tune recently from Boston area old time musicians Linda Henry and Jerry Dallal. It comes originally from the repertoire of fiddler Roy Bennett (1895-1986), of Battletown, Meade County, Kentucky. The A part of the tune reminds me of the theme of an old children's television puppet show from the 1950s called Willie Wonderful, that has been rattling around in my head for years. I think it comes from an older children's folksong called I Love Little Willie, collected by Vance Randolph.

I love little Willy,
I do, Mamaw
I love little Willy,
I do, Mamaw,
I love little Willy,
And don't you tell Pa.
For he wouldn't like it,
Oh, would he, Mamaw?
